FIGHT BOLSHEVISM,

"It is our duty and the duty of every other true American citizen to exert every effort and power against Bolshevist propaganda in this country," said the Rev. James Shera Montgomery in his sermon on "The Creed and Curse of Bolshevism" at the Calvary M. E. Church last night. "The creed of Bolshevism," said Dr. Montgomery, "is to provoke an attack upon well ordered society and economic conditions in the countries unfortunate in having the germs harbored within by a system of property destruction and the sacrifice of human lives."

Dr. George R. Stuart, of Birmingham, Ala., spoke on "The Stuff a Man is Made of" at Liberty Hut yesterday afternoon. The speaker kept the big audience interested for more than an hour. As example of "the stuff" he pointed to the exploits and heroic achievements of the American soldiers in the war, British Chaplain Speaks.

The Rev. Dr. Henry Allen Tupper, of the First Baptist Church, presented to his congregation yesterday the Rev. John Robertson, of Glasgow, Scotland, who is to speak each day at 10 a. m., 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. during this week. During the war Dr. Robdrtson was a major and a chaplain with the British forces.

"No man has left such an indelible impress on history and his native land as did Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, the pre-eminent military genius of the civil war," said the Rev. Harry D. Mitchell at the Grant memorial services in Metropolitan M. E. Church last night. The services were held under the auspices of the G. A. R. and was presided over by Past Commander A. P. Tasker, of the G. A. R. "A great man is one who serves," said the speaker. "The day has dawned when rulers must be the servants of the people. Such was the conception and practice of him whom we honor tonight." Dreams are the manifestation of latent power within us, declared Dr. Harry Wise, pastor of the Church of Life and Joy in his sermon at the New Ebbitt Hotel last night on "How to Make Your Dreams Come True." "The power to accomplish," he said. "instills within us desires that comeforth in dreams-dreams of love, beauty, ability, service, or accomplishment-all elements of the great. power within us and capable of becoming realities." Warns Agdinst Gambling.

Dr. George Stewart, in his sermon at Liberty Hut against gambling, said: "There is no genuine propserity in this life or in the life to come except that which is founded in the law of God. The law of God builds a fence around the sinkhole to keep you from falling in. The young man or the young woman may think God's fence keeps them out of the good things of life, and they jump through to find themselves failures. You can't make a man without a fight."
